Gentlemen:          Attention Mr. Frank J. Jutrash,
                                 Convention Chairman.

We thank you for your recent letter asking for our participation in your coming convention, but advise that this year we have made up our minds not to participate as it is becoming too expensive a program for us to maintain. Last year about this time we sent out some fifty contributions, and this year we are already in receipt of fifteen communications asking for our support. We feel that we are very willing to support the general A.R.R.L. Convention with a small contribution, but when it comes, as it has the last two years, from various sections of the country, we feel such a demand on us is just a little bit more than our policy can take care of.

We therefore regret we will be unable to donate any of our product this year.

Yours very truly,

JEWELL ELECTRICAL INSTRUMENT COMPANY
